KENTUCKY REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.
We are opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, believing that it would involve the country in financial ruin. We believe in a sound currency and in the use of both gold and silver for commerce, provided always that it is not in our interest to use silver as a dollar in the place of gold.
We favor a tariff so regulated as to protect the interests of all classes, but our efforts will be aimed at such a tariff as will be successful in protecting the laborer and a home market in the producer; and in connection with this we favor the re-establishment of the doctrine of reciprocity.
We believe that such a system will defray our debt, expand our commerce, gradually restore our debility, restore public confidence and relieve us of the near the end of our present financial distress. In view of the past financial history of the Democratic party, its denials of the old debt system and its refusal to take any action to relieve us, we affirm that the Republican party can be more safely trusted to regulate the financial system of the Nation.
We favor an American policy which will protect American and American interests in any part of the world at all hazards and will sympathize with struggling Republics rather than ignominious monarchies.
Uncle Sam's Shortage.
The deficit in the National Treasury for the present fiscal year—from July 1st to date—is $19,035,064.43.
The man who buys goods made in England in preference to goods made in the United States is a very poor American.
During the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1894, under the McKinley Protective Tariff, we sold to foreign countries $200,000,000 worth of American-made carpets. During the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1895, under the Democratic Free-trade tariff, we imported 700,000 yards. What, then, becomes of the Democratic contention that free wool would enable the American manufacturer to make all the carpets needed in this country?
During the fiscal year ending June
30th, 1894, under the McKinley Protective
Tariff, we sold to foreign countries
$200,000,000 worth of American-made
June 30th, 1895, under the Democratic Free-trade tariff, we sold to foreign countries only $100,000 worth of American-made carpets. Does this look like we were "capturing the markets of the world" under the Free-trade policy?

CAMPION ORATORS are missing a mighty fine point by not locating the responsibility for the present great scarcity of water—Donnell Advocate.

Easy as rollin' off a log, neighbor.
All the leading Democrats of the state are on the stump, and have been driven to water-drinking through the "roasts" administered to AL BERRY.

In spite of the fact that the duties on window glass have been reduced nearly one-half by the provisions of the new Tariff, the manufacturers have formed a trust. The trust has already advanced prices nearly 15 per cent. And another advance of 5 per cent. is likely to follow.
What becomes of the argument that a Protective Tariff fosters trusts, and that a revision of duties according to Democratic ideas would be a death blow to such combinations?

HOLMES' TRIAL.
For the Murder of Benj. F. Pit-zel, Opens at Philadelphia.

His Attorneys Desert Him by Withdrawing From the Case.

HOLMES REFUSES OTHER COUNSEL AND WILL CONDUCT HIS OWN DEFENSE. A JURY IS SELECTED AND THE ACCUSED IS AR-RESTED BY THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—Herman W.
Nuggett, alias H. B. Holmes, was arrested at the bar of justice of the criminal court of Philadelphia Monday to defend his life against the charge of having murdered Benjamin F. Pitzel in this city on the 23d of September, 1893.

The very opening of the trial furnished an unusual incident in court procedure and was in keeping with the strange phases that have made the case unique in the criminal records of the country.

Directly after the prisoner had been placed in the dock and Judge Arnold had taken his seat upon the bench, Holmes' two attorneys asked for a continuance of the case. The request was refused, as there had already been more than enough of the law's proverbial delay, and Judge Arnold ordered the trial to proceed. Then the defendant's lawyers announced they would withdraw from the case. The judge expressed his surprise at such unprecedented action at the beginning of a murder trial, and told the two attorneys if they withdrew they placed themselves in jeopardy of being disbarred. Nevertheless, with the threat of disbarment before them the two lawyers persisted in their refusal to conduct the case and left the courtroom.

The court thereupon appointed two attorneys to conduct the prisoner's defense. Although accused of crimes that would revolt a barbarous savage, there was something pathetic in the picture made by Holmes at this point.
Slender, and once a youthful man, his features made him appear and with an added delicacy given by his naturally clear-cut and refined face by his long confinement in prison. Holmes stood on his feet and addressed the court. His voice was weak and quivering like that of a man who has been ill, and the short distance that separated him from the court. He announced that he would not accept the lawyers appointed by the court and that he would conduct his own defense. A hum of astonishment went around the courtroom, but, alone and without a friend by his side, the iron nerve that had enabled this man to leave behind a trail of death without a show of compunction, now gave him up under the trying ordeal of the desertion of his counsel. Holmes exercised his right of challenge, and before the jury was sworn the two men had been set aside by him. When court reconvened Monday afternoon Holmes sat in the dock busily engaged in writing notes during his intervals of rest. When the district attorney in his opening argument. An occasional flush suffused his cheek, and once in a while a slight lifting of his brows when the district attorney became particularly earnest, were the only marks of emotion exhibited by him. When the district attorney had concluded his argument Holmes requested that he be allowed writing material for his cell in the county prison. This was granted him and then Holmes was allowed to see his wife. A sharp interchange of dialogue occurred between the prisoner and the district attorney as to which wife he wanted to see, and finally Holmes was driven to state that he had two women who had been devalued into marrying him.
This woman has refused to see Holmes, but he obtained a promise from her that a letter should be sent to him Monday night, and that if she would comply an answer to it should be sent to him from here. Here court adjourned until Tuesday morning.

Wholesale Poisoning.
HENTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 29.—At the Adelphi, the leading hotel in this section, there was much excitement Monday. At an early hour about 15 of the guests began to manifest signs of poisoning, and since then about half the medical fraternity have been engaged in attending to the wants of the sufferers. All night pounded out of danger Monday night except Homer Smith, a prominent hotel man at Point Pleasant, who lies in a critical condition.

Two Children Killed by a Train.
St. Louis, Oct. 29.—Willie and Matie Vaughn, aged 8 and 6, were run over by a train on the St. Louis, Kansas and Western railway at Forsyth junction, near Forest Park, Monday evening, and killed. The children stepped from one track to the other to cross a train and got in front of another.
They were horribly mangled.

Small Uprising in San Domingo.
KINOSTON, Jamaica, Oct. 29.—Official advises report a small uprising in San Domingo, near the town of Barrios, on the frontier. President Heriaux promptly sent troops, who suppressed the revolt. The rebels were all butchered. General discontent prevails throughout the island.

Descent the Report.
LONDON, Oct. 29.—The Standard Tuesday publishes a dispatch from Paris saying that the report that the marquis of Dufferin, the British ambassador to France, would go to Constantinople as British special envoy is entirely without foundation. The Chronicle will also deny the report.

Prison Abuse His Wife and Child.
Chicago, Oct. 29.—James W. Hall, 32 years old and a printer, Monday night shot his wife, Sarah, it is thought, for not and committed suicide. The couple had quarreled and had frequently quarreled.

PREACHER'S DREAM.
He Awoke With a Fright—He Felt That a Devil Was Possessing Him.

FRANKFORD, Ky., Oct. 28.—Rev. W.
H. Cooper, chaplain of the Frankfort penitentiary, lives on the north side, a mile from the prison building. At 10:15 Sunday night he had been in bed all sleep for some time. He awoke with a start, out of bed and said to himself: "Marry Dine is trying to escape from the penitentiary. I am going down there." He refused to listen to his wife's pleas and went and hastened through the night to the penitentiary.

At the gate he asked for a guard and with him went to the hospital. He left the guard at the door, and he was the first to give the alarm of the escape of Henry Dine, the horse thief, and Scott Parke, the murderer. They had left the hospital unscathed and the walk between 10 o'clock and 10:30 o'clock. Dine was a patient in the hospital and Parke was a nurse. Dine was just finishing a five years' sentence for horse stealing, and he knew that the Tennessee authorities were coming after him to make him finish up a nineteen years' sentence in that state.

Parke had served three years of an eight-year term for manslaughter in Whitely county. The two had made a duplicate key to the hospital; had waited till every one in the hospital had gone to sleep. They had been gone about a half hour when Mr. Cooper discovered the escape.
Mr. Cooper does not contribute his peculiar experience to any mysterious medium. He had seen several suspicious circumstances about Dine, and his suspiciousness, but thinks he is not realize till he woke with his mind free of all other matters, the suspicious looks, action, etc. of Dine when he had last seen him.

A RABID DOG.

Two Children in Dayton, Ky., and in Albany, N. Y., Oct. 29.—A mad dog created considerable excitement here Monday morning. The canine was a little cur, but possessed abnormal strength, knocking over children and actively dragging them along the ground.

The dog was seen at Walnut and Fairfield avenues and driven away by some boys. It raced through the streets, returning and making a violent attack on Willie Wharton, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wharton, living at the corner of Gilmore and Walnut streets. The boy was knocked down and the animal, fastening its teeth in his right forearm, dragged him a considerable distance. The dog was barked and scolded until compelled to release his hold, running to Fairfield avenue, where it attacked Charles Collins, the 14-year-old son of Maurice C. Collins. Mr.
Collins witnessed the attack on her son and ran to his rescue, beating off the dog with a broom.

The dog was chased up Vine street and, after some maneuvering, was caught in a bag by his pursuers and given to some boys, who took it to the house of Mr. Robert Roberts. The Wharton boy was severely injured, his hand and forearm being quite badly lacerated.
The dog was not broken.

MARRIED BY FORCE.

William Roberts, convicted of Writing an Improper Letter, Took a Marriage Trip.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 29.—W. M.
Roberts, recently of Mobile, Ala., was convicted Monday morning in the United States court of sending obscene letters through the mail. His crime consisted in attacking his wife, of Mobile, by mail. Roberts says that he married his wife, formerly Miss Russell, by force. He says that he met her, Joseph B. Russell, and another man, met him one midnight on the streets of Mobile, and, presenting a pistol to his hand, forced him to accompany them to Mr. Russell's home, where a preacher was in waiting, and the marriage ceremony was performed.
He left her the next day, and after securing a position in this city as a bookkeeper for a large factory he wrote and made many charges against Mrs.
Roberts.

Building an Iron Viaduct.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 29.—The Southern railway began Friday to build an iron viaduct over a deep chasm on its line about one mile this side of Fisherville, 23 miles from Louisville. The iron structure will displace a wooden trestle 1,000 feet long and 50 feet high.
The new management proposes to have the line first-class, so this goes to show.

Cal Open His Abdomen.
VANDERBILT, Ky., Oct. 29.—Peck Owens and Arnot Graves, two prominent farmers at Paris, this (Lewis) county, were taken to the other world Monday morning. Owens cutting Graves across the abdomen. The intestines protruded, but Graves took them in his hand and walked to his home, a quarter of a mile away.

A Victim of Typhoid Fever.
MURFreesboro, Ky., Oct. 29.—J. J.
White is dead of typhoid fever. He was the leading dry goods merchant of Maysville, and that section of this county, and was postmaster of his town. He leaves a wife, a married daughter and two sons about grown.

Kentucky Man Tamed in Chattanooga.
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 29.—W. C.
Woodworth, a signmaker from Bowling Green, Ky., was locked up in a charge of larceny. The man is 32 years of age; became violent, and the city physician is of the opinion he is hopelessly insane.

The New Mine at New-bern, Ky., Oct. 29.—The shaft of

THE MAYSVILLE REPUBLICAN

WEEKLY PUBLIC LEDGER.

Did U?

Did you ever think that relatives or friends who have moved to distant places—gone West, perhaps, to grow up with the country—are always glad to hear from their "Old Kentucky Home"? And did it ever occur to you that a single copy of THE MAYSVILLE REPUBLICAN—the weekly edition of The Public Ledger—contains more news than you could obtain in a hundred ordinary letters? And did it ever strike you that you can send the paper to your relatives and friends for a whole year at less cost than you can write a letter every week? Besides, don't you think a year's subscription to THE REPUBLICAN would be a presently highly appreciated by those at a distance?
Suppose you try it and hear what they have to
